Said In Cypress

That "Fisherman John" turns out to be no fisherman at all. At least he's honest. The albacore didn't bother Crume's hook at all on last week's deep sea jaunt. In fact, the report is monotonous — no fish!

That it doesn't seem like a year, but Leona says 'tis so. And to attest to the fact, her friends baked an enormous cake, decorated it appropriately, and served it as a surprise Tuesday noon — to celebrate the first anniversary of her proprietorship of the Cypress do-nut shop and Fifth Gear cafe. Sharing in the festivities were Mr. and Mrs. Essex, Earl that is, Evie, Betty and Syl.

That it's the last thing we'd think about, personally. But "C" Thompson, at the variety store, was busy this week constructing new shelves over the counters. And guess what for? A display of new toys in the Christmas stock!

That we were feeling the pinch of items for this column when we met Fred Hutchings up town and can now give forth with a story in the department of favorite pets. Fred has a cat which he claims unusual in that it has two paws on each front foot and five toes on the hind feet. The normal, if we didn't lose count, is four. That's unusual enough to warrant a spot in our list of freak cats. He has some mighty fine big dogs, too, who are friendly with said feline.

That we never did mention "Big Red", the doberman belonging to the Earl Siples. A beautiful specimen of dog, we say, after staggering to our feet from the dust where a playful wave of the paw sent us. (We exaggerate. He just seems so big after our little Heidi.)

That you can't find juicy bits for a column which quotes from Cypress when you spend Saturday in Laguna Beach, guest of the Festival of Arts, and Monday morning gallavanting around in other towns. But some things which happen out of town are SO worthwhile!!

California Man Heads Kiwanis, Reveals Plans

J. Hugh Jackson, dean of the graduate school of business at Stanford University and newly elected president of Kiwanis International, today informed officers of the Kiwanis Club of Buena Park that his administration during the next several months would continue to emphasize the theme, "Aggressive

J. HUGH JACKSON

Citizenship—Our Individual Responsibility."

Installed as president of the community service organization at the closing session of its 34th annual convention a few days ago at Atlantic City, N. J., the prominent California educator said that he would urge Kiwanis clubs to work for world peace and guard against subversive activities.

The new chief executive of Kiwanis International has held a number of important positions during the past several years, including the presidency of the American Accounting Association, the National Association of Cost Accountants, and the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.

TELEPHONE RATE INCREASE TO TAKE EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1

The State Public Utilities Commission this week granted the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company a $13,400,000 gross annual increase in its revenues. The boost will come from higher rates to basic business and residence telephone users in Buena Park and other cities in California.

The higher rates will go into effect September 1.

The increase will enable the company to realize a 5.6 per cent net return on its investment, the Commission spokesman stated.

Cypress Ends League Play In First Place; Three Make All-NSA Team

ONE LOSS ONLY MARK AGAINST LOCALS

Two victories over the weekend gave the Cypress Merchants a sure tie for first place in the final standings of the National Softball Association for the summer.

If All-American Market loses one of its final contests, undisputed first place will go to the local team.

Two Easy Wins

The Norwalk Merchants conveniently dropped out of the league prior to their game with Cypress last week, which gave the Cypreans a 1-0 forfeit victory.

Chris' Union Oil from Downey was the other victim of the local Merchants. It was a close contest for the first four innings but Cypress won 9-3.

Going into to fifth, the count was only 3-2 in favor of the Cypress aggregation. They peppered the opposing infield for four runs in the fifth, however, while the Downey team garnered only one lone run, their last of the game.

The final scoring for Cypress came in the seventh when "Lanky" Boeckler poked a home run with one man on base.

Some of the teams have not but will finish this week. The Merchants will play a practice game Monday night on the Norwalk diamond in preparation for the play-offs. the times and dates of the play-off games will be announced in the Enterprise as soon as they are released from NSA headquarters.

PICK HOLIDAY, GULMAN AND WRIGHT

An unofficial "All-NSA" club was named this week by Paul Roggia of the Norwalk Call based on play in the first round of action. it included three players from the elading team, Cypress.

Earl Holiday, Cypress pitcher with a 5-win, no-loss record, was picked as one of tw hurlers.

Jim Wright, local first baseman who also has a 2-0 pitching record in the first round of play, was chosen as first baseman, while Dick Gulman represents the local club at shortstop.

Other Statistics

Other statistics show Gulman and Wright in fifth and sixth places in the league batting with .322 averages.

NEED BLOOD DONORS ANAHEIM AUGUST 10

Sponsored by the American red cross, the "bloodmobile" will be in Anaheim in front of the Ebell clubhouse on August tenth between the hours of 4 and 7 in the evening.

Expecting to be furnished with 100 donors from this area, readers are reminded that all people in this territory are eligible to receive blood for transfusions when needed from the Anaheim chapter. It is hoped that several from here will volunteer.

Girls Continue Losing Streak

The Cypress Devilettes dropped two more league contests during the past week as they neared the end of the season.

In the first game at Buena Park Friday, a moral victory was evident, even though the score read 8 to 0 in favor of the Kittens. Holding the Kittens to that score was commendable, since they have walloped the Devilettes 16-2 and 22-0 in earlier contests.

Norwalk 23, Cypress 12

Norwalk's Gremlins, after having split previous games with the locals, turned on the heat Tuesday night on the Elementary school diamond and turned in a 23 to 12 win over the Devilettes.

Norwalk scored steadily throughout the tilt, but got their big inning in the fourth when they made seven runs.

GIRLS FACE THREE TOUGH FOES NEXT

The Devilettes will meet two teams at home this week and one on the road.

Tonight the girls travel to Hawaiian Gardens where they will play a team that has beaten them once, 24 to 4.

Tuesday the Lionettes come to Cypress to play the Devilettes. The Cypress girls beat the Lionettes 12 to 4 in their last encounter.

Corona will be the foe of the Devilettes Thursday night on the Cypress diamond.

Both Cypress games will begin at 7:30 p.m.

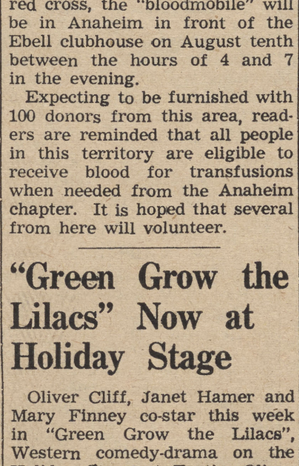
"Green Grow the Lilacs" Now at Holiday Stage

Oliver Cliff, Janet Hamer and Mary Finney co-star this week in "Green Grow the Lilacs", Western comedy-drama on the Holiday Stage at Tustin. Oliver Cliff, as cowboy Curly, sings and plays the guitar to Miss Hamer, as his sweetheart Laurie. Miss Finney plays the lovable and wise Aunt Eller. John Alvin, in a change of pace from former roles, plays the villainous Jeeter, and June Lewis portrays the delightful Ado Annie.



JANET HAMER

Fifteen folk songs and dances, many still popular throughout the country, are employed in the course of the play. Twenty of the younger Holiday Stage players add to the gaiety in two dances to "Skip to My Lou" and "Little Brown Jug." Mr. Cliff sings "Git Along Little Dogies", "A-Ridin' Ole Paint", "Green Grow the Lilacs" and "My Name is Sam Hall." Janet Hamer warbles "I Know My Love" and "Go Away from My Window." The two team up on "Down In the Valley."

Other favorite numbers sung by Glen Wells, June Lewis, Eve Halpern and others of the cast of thirty are "Ye Ballade of Ivan Petrovsky Skevar," "Foggy, Foggy Dew", "Careless Love" and "When I Was Single." Guitar, fiddle and harmonica provide accompaniment to the merrymaking.

Elaboate settings of the famous Lynn Riggs play depict an early American farmhouse and yard as it must have looked when Oklahoma was still Indian territoy. Highlight scene in the play is the authentic "chivaree" episode in which the cowboys help Curly and Laurie celebrate their wedding night. Authenic period costumes dress the show.

Scheduled to rollow "Green Grow the Lilacs", which plays through Saturday, is "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde, comedy featuring Oliver Cliff, Mary Finney and Trescott Ripley, who scored a hite in the title role of "The Heiress" two weeks ago. "Earnest" will play August 8 through 13.

Can You Top This One?

Mrs. Len White probably had the biggest breakfast of any Cypress resident one morning this week. She is aware that a double yolk is a common occurrence in extra large eggs. She has even heard of an egg with three yolks. But when she broke an egg into the frying pan and discovered a FOUR-yolk egg, she believes that establishes some kind of a record.

To prove that her egg story would not be classed with the proverbial fish story — the one that got away — Mrs. White exhibited the unusual sight to neighbors before proceeding with her morning meal.

The freak specimen of hen's fruit was among a dozen lot purchased from the Barnett ranch on Hansen road.

Baptists To Hear Rev. E. J. Morgan Friday Evening

Considering it a great treat to present one of the outstanding leaders in evangelism, the Reverend W. V. Buckner announces that a prominent Baptist will bring the message tonight during the current revival series.

Speaking on the subject "Where did we get our Bible, where did it come from?" will be the Reverend E. J. Morgan, of the El Monte church. He was formerly with Hyman Appleman, the great Jewish evangelist, and is well known to Baptist audiences.

The congregation Tuesday evening thrilled to the music of Gloria Kleiwer, pianist from El Monte. It is exepected that she will play again some evening next week. Services are held every evening at 7:30 o'clock except Saturday.

Social Time Planned By Aux. Sunday

Entertainment, food and donations to a worthy cause from the sale of tickets will be the order of the day Sunday when the auxiliary to the local VFW post No. 9847 goes all out in its effort to add to a fund for cancer research.

Serving a picnic luncheon from 1 to 2 o'clock Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Demiris, 8181 Gay street, the committee plans for generous size helpings. Tickets may be purchased prior to Sunday from any auxiliary member for 75c adult, and 35c children.

Mrs. Demiris is chairman of the committee on arrangments.

ANNUAL PICNIC FOR CLUB'S FAMILIES

Members of the Cypress Women's community club and their families will enjoy a planned potluck picnic on the school grounds Tuesday evening, August 9, starting at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Frank Noe, president, asked that any member who wishes to attend, but who hasn't been advised to bring a particular dish, contact the secretary, Mrs. Barbara Young, at Anaheim 60729.

No New Cases Reported of Unnamed Malady

No new cases of the unnamed disease which struck five residents in or near Cypress have been reported since last week, according to information received from Dr. Edw. Lee Russell, county health officer in Santa Ana Thursday morning.

Miss Florence Ames, investigator from the bureau of communicable diseases, spent Tuesday and part of Wednesday making additional tests. From the new specimens sent to the state laboratory, it is expected that a report will be received in about ten days.

Within the next few days, Dr. Arthur H. Hollister, chief of staff from the state bureau, will arrive for consultation and research.

Still in the Orange county hospital, Mrs. Ralph R. Ellsworth is progressing as well as can be expected. She experiences difficulty in standing on right leg, grasping with right arm, and the left side of her face is still slightly drawn, as from paralysis.

Ted Boyd, Charles Grable, and E. R. Wright apparently continue to improve.

Fire At Poultry Farm Tuesday

Considerable damage and loss was sustained by H. J. St. Pierre at his poultry ranch Tuesday when fire partially destroyed two buildings. Apparently starting in a brooder house, volunteer firemen from Cypress and West Anaheim stations worked over an hour to put out the blaze. Chickens and feed were kept in the buildings which were burned.

St. Pierre said that no estimate had been made by insurance adjustors on the structures, which were covered. He will suffer personal financial loss of stock and equipment. About 200 baby turkeys, ranging from four to eight weeks old and 1500 chickens, one to five weeks old were destroyed.

The poultry ranch is located at 7281 Lincoln avenue.

VFW Commander Given High Posts In District, County

Because of the cooperation between members of Cypress Post No. 9847 of the VFW and its commander, H. J. G. "Happy" Kreissler, and the hard work which both have extended in putting their post "on the map," reognition was granted them this week. Commander Kreissler acknowledges the efforts of his co-workers in bringing the Cypress organization to the attention of county and district officials through the recent advertising campaign.

Word has been received of his appointment as deputy chief of staff for the district and deputy inspector for Orange council council, Kreissler said. Credit is due the members, he said, for their cooperation.

Price Seibert, the first to apply for the position as driver, successfully passed all of the required examinations, including the eye test and physical. Veteran driver Rollo L. Miles and Seibert will be retained by the board to drive the two buses and provide more adequate transportation service to the school children this year.

Nazarene Group Chooses Name Of Missionary

To be known as the "Garnet Howard" chapter of the Young Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Church of the Nazarene, the local group has honored its pastor's sister-in-law. Presently serving in the Cape Verde islands, the name chosen is that of the Reverend Everette Howard's wife. The Reverend W. D. Howard's pastor of the Cypress church.

The missionaries recently returned to their post in the islands following a visit to the states, having left by boat the latter part of June.

The society held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, Miss Gayle McCoy acting as hostess. A surprise personal shower followed the business meeting in honor of Miss Etta Jean Bodkins, 8851 La Salle street, who will wed Stanley V. Martin, 8762 La Salle street, Thursday evening, August 11. Many lovely gifts were tendered the honoree.

CINA-CAR GETS NEW POPCORN MACHINE

A Viking popcorn machine has been added to the growing list of new equipment which has been added to the Cina-Car drive-in theatre.

FRED WATSON EARNS RETIREMENT FROM SHELL OIL COMPANY

A machinist for Shell oil company for 28 years, Fred Watson was this week retired on pension. Mr. and Mrs. Watson and their son, Dean, a seventh grade student in the elementary school have lived at their present location, 5832 Orange avenue, for the past ten years. Comprising around five acres of land, Watson does not anticipate that he will want for things to do.

In the meantime, the family plans an extended trip to the east. They will visit relatives in Ohio and Arizona before returning home.

Having begun with Shell oil in 1921 on Signal Hill, Watson is the possessor of a Hamilton watch and diamond pin, received at the end of the twenty-fifth year of service with the company.

Board Adds Two New Teachers

Two additional teachers have signed contracts this past week for teaching positions in the Cypress elementary school system next year.

Classes in the afternoon kindergarten will be conducted by Mrs. Mary Kirk of Anaheim. George Keefe of Long Beach has been hired as a seventh grade instructor.

"Pancho" Appleby Vies For Queen

Queen candidate Myrl Appleby, better known to her many friends in Cypress, Artesia and Bellflower as "Pancho", is one of six girls vieing for the title of popularity queen of the Artesia Lion's club carnival. The contest and celebration began August third and will continue through the seventh.

"Pancho" is sponsored by Lion's club member Phil Sheldon, of Billie's Dress shop, Lee's Cypress cafe and Evie's beauty shop. Tickets are on sale from any one of these three. The largest number sold by any contestant will determine who is queen.

"PANCHO" APPLEBY

A two-door Chevrolet de luxe sedan and several household appliances will be given away and a dance will be held on Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Proceeds from the undertaking will be turned over to the youth foundation for the purpose of constructing a clubhouse in the Lion's club park in Artesia. Park facilities are available to all youth groups in the surrounding territory.

Since Mrs. Appleby is the only candidate for queen from Cypress, it is expected that she will gain many votes in this community. Her many friends are pledging their full support.

Public Invited To Firemen's Dance August 13

Members of the Cypress volunteer fire department are busy advertising the next community dance to be sponsored by this organization.

On Saturday evening, August 13, in the fire hall, another in the series of popular dancing affairs will be held, to which the public is cordially invited.

The same band has been spoken for by the local fire boys. The popular group was augmented at last month's engagement by a banjo player of unusual ability. The band provides a well-rounded program of a variety of tunes and rhythms in the popular modern dance manner.

Tickets may be purchased now from any member of the Cypress volunteer fire department.

Citizens of Cypress and all surrounding territory are invited to the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday night to hear D. K. Hutchinson of Bell, explain the proposed system of buses that are to be operated by him and his associates in this area.

The meeting is at 8 p.m. in the Elementary school auditorium. The public is invited.

The purpose of the talk is to acquaint the people of Cypress and surrounding towns with the possibilities such a transportation line will offer.

In a talk with Hutchinson, it was learned that 18 tentative routes have been planned. From most points on the routes, a rider will be able to reach Los Angeles, Long Beach or any of the other beaches and the cities to the east.

One of the headaches he has confronted, Hutchinson admits, is the problem of a practical fast route from Cypress to Los Angeles. He added, however, that he is working on every possible angle.

At the present stage of the bus line's development, Hutchinson is interested in getting as complete a survey of the possible traffic as he can. The facts he gathers will determine the first routes to be used. For instance, when he was asked about the possibility of a route from Cypress to Buena Park, he said it would depend upon how heavy the passenger traffic would be as indicated from his survey.

Members of the Chambers of Commerce at Artesia, Los Alamitos, Stanton, Garden Grove and Hawaiian Gardens have been invited to attend the meeting.

Goodman Home Setting For Kopsho Shower

Feted by her sister, Mrs. E. E. Goodman, Mrs. Howard Kopsho was the recipient of many lovely gifts at an anticipation shower Saturday evening in the former's home at 8742 Cypress avenue. Gifts were placed in a bassinet fashioned by the hostess from white linen, and decorated with baby pink ribbon.

Interesting games significant to the nature of the occasion furnished entertainment for the evening. Prizes were won by Miss Leona Goodman, Mrs. Evelyn Lewis and Mrs. Eleanor Cate.

Refreshments served at the close of the evening carried out the color scheme chosen by the hostess.

Present in addition to those previously mentioned were Mmes. Mable Welch, Pearl Cooper Grace Cate, Frances Kopsho, Helen Kopsho, Mabelle Dyer, Eleanor Browning, Lynn Chancellor, and Irene Chancellor.

Sending gifts but unable to attend were Mmes. Dorothy Beason, Bessie McCoy, Betty Dyer, Mary Ellen Anderson and Tillie Mathis.

RECORD PERIOD OF DROUGHT NOTED

A new all-time "dry" record of five consecutive subnormal rainfall years was chalked up in Southern California when the 1948-49 Season ended.

IN EARLY 1900'S

Dairying Interests Were Vital To Growth Of Early Business

Ed. Note — This week's "History of Cypress" article by Mrs. Olive Williams relates to an interview with George H. Miller, an early Cypress pioneer.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Miller came to Cypress in 1899 from Yavapi county, Arizona, where they had been engaged in the cattle business on their ranch 35 miles from Prescott. They bought an eighty acre ranch, built a house and went into the dairy business. Like all the farmers, Miller sold his milk to the Lily creamery at Buena Park. In 1907 a small milk depot was built in Cypress where the cream was separated and sent to Los Angeles.

Dairy Company Is Formed

In 1910 the Southern California Dairy company was formed. In order to keep one man from getting control, only one block of stock was sold to one man. They had about 400 members. All the farmers bought stock, even those living in Norwalk, Artesia and Buena Par. Mr. Miller was the president of the company for a good many years. Later two other creameries wanted to consolidate and not being willing to be called by the name of any one of them, the name was changed to the Mutual Dairy company.

In 1917 Miller bought the Cypress feed mill from Bob Vaughn and Mert Cawthon, but it burned down in 1918.

Miller, often called the father of Cypress, and S. O. Walker, laid out the town and subdivided it in 1906. The former was instrumental in bringing the Pacific Electric railway through Cypress in 1906. The company promised to make a junction at Cypress and run a line to Anaheim. Miller brought a 100 foot right of way and donated it to the P. E. but the line to Anaheim was never built. A collection was taken up and a depot was built on the Miller grant.

THE "IMPOSSIBLE" TAKES LONGER

The most looked-for achievement in the track and field sport is the legendary four-minute mile. For years many track experts have said it couldn't be done.

Now comes no less an authority than Dean Cromwell, Olympic coach team, to say that it isn't at all impossible. In his new book, "Championship Techniques in Track and Field" he points out that the best mile mark now stands at 4:01:4—less than a second and a half away from the magic mark.

Cromwell also believes that other "impossible" records will be achieved, such as nine seconds flat for the 100-yard dash, a 16-foot pole vault, 28-foot broad jump and 200-foot toss in the discus. Many coaches disagree with him, but in view of the fact that top high school athletes now turn in performances in some events which were world's records 20 years ago, it may be only a matter of time until his predictions are fulfilled.

MARGARET CAN

No doubt the British people—and the King and Queen—have come to realize by this time that life in the royal circle is certain to be much livelier with Princess Margaret around. The young lady believes in having fun—including doing the "can can"—even if it lifts some of the staid British eyebrows clear to the ceiling.

PASSING FADS !

I RISE TO REMARK

by John Phillips

When I wrote, in this weekly letter, that I expected to sail for France, on committee business, on July 27th, I admitted the announcement was probably premature. We are still here. However, there is a definite understanding that, barring the unexpected, all work of the House will be completed by the 13, and we will take three-day recesses, until adjournment. Those of us who have work to do, will start to leave, and the sailing date for the Phillips' will be August 16th.

Mrs. Phillips goes along, as the saying is, for the ride. The committee will probably pay about 65% of my out-of-pocket expenses, and none of hers, of course. It is only for the bureaus that we really throw around the money, not for ourselves. I tell her she will have to find a hotel porch in Southern France and a rocking chair, although we may go down into Italy together, to see if the Mediterranean looks as blue as it did 36 years ago, on our wedding trip. My real job will be to see the American cemeteries, investigate the care and the building programs, compare them with the other cemeteries, and look into this idea of spending x-millions of dollars on monuments and flagpoles in countries whose governments would collapse if it were not for the American taxpayers, while all the time they blame us for their troubles, and pass resolutions that, in case of war, they will not help us. We are also arming Europe. We also have a $15 billion arms budget for ourselves. We also support the United Nations, and the so-called Marshall Plan, and the President is now asking for $1½ billion for "implementing" the Atlantic Pact. That's bureau-ese for buying the boys some slingshots and Chicago typewriters, at the same time admonishing them not to break any windows. Nothing for China or the Orient, nor for that matter, for Alaska.

Maybe the White House has been occupied with more important matters. The vacancy on the Supreme Court, for example. Tom Clark got it. He had the spy trials pretty well gummed up, and had done the FBI serious harm, by insisting on breaking their commie contacts. So now he's going to be put where he can help make decisions like the Christoffel decision, which says that a commie shouldn't lie to a Congressional committee but it isn't a lie if there wasn't a quorum there to hear it. You really should read that decision. It throws a cloud on actions of the Congress for fifty years, including the bill giving the Justices a pay raise!!

The interesting thing about the Clark appointment is that the President openly ignores the historic theory that Democrats and Republicans should be appointed to the high tribunal, to keep it non-partisan.

From 1900 to 1909, there were 7 Republicans and 2 Democrats; from 1910 to 1916, six Republicans and 3 Democrats; for the next 4 years, 5 Republicans and 4 Democrats; from 1922 to 1932, 6 Republicans and 3 Democrats; from 1933 to 1937, 5 Republicans and 4 Democrats; in 1938, 4 Republicans and 5 Democrats, and now watch the change, in 1939 and 1940, 3 Republicans and 6 Democrats; from 1941 to 1946; 2 Republicans and 7 Democrats; from 1947 to the death of Justice Murphy, 1 Republican and 8 Democrats, and the appointment of Attorney-General Clark, leaves it with 8 Democrats to 1 Republican, Justice Burton. I rise to remark it is just another of those milestones I have been pointing out for months, in our progression to centralized, one-party government.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Daniels and children, Claudia and David and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Christopher and sons, Gary and Chris, plan a five-day vacation at Sequoia. They expect to leave on Saturday.

Travelogue

by James C. Duncan

Port Swettenham is a place no larger than your thumb nail. It is located roughly about two hundred miles up the coast from Singapore. It is so small a place that it isn't even shown on the maps and the easiest way to locate it is to draw a line from Kuala Lumpur to the coast.

We arrived at the mouth of a large river, which we had to go up at 0730 hours (7:30 a.m.) the day after we left Singapore. We spent the night traveling up the Malacca Straits. Arriving at the river's mouth a pilot came out to the ship and we started to proceed up the river. Dense tropical jungle crowded down to the water on both sides of us. It was impossible to see into this green wall. The water was an emerald green and it sparkled smartly in the morning sun.

We proceeded up the river slowly and finally arrived at Port Swettenham at 1230 hours (12:30 p.m.) We had to tie up to the buoys as there was only one dock and it could only handle two ships at a time and there were other ships waiting ahead of us. It appeared that we would be in Swettenham for about a fortnight.

The next day, a tugboat pulled up along side loaded with natives who swarmed over the ship, taking off hatch covers and getting the booms ready. The tugboat went back to shore and presently reappeared towing several large lighters behind it loaded with bales of raw rubber. Leaving the lighters at the ship, it went back for some others and towed them out to us then returned taking the empties with it and bring more back out. This went on all day and for four more days.

On the sixth day we pulled into the dock. What a happy bunch we were. A chance to get our feet back on terra firma for awhile. The black board was posted that we would leave at 1600 hours (4:00 p.m.) that evening. That didn't give Lenny and I much time ashore to get some pictures. We took off as soon as the gangplank was lowered. We had to walk uptown which seemed about five miles away. The sun was blazing down and every step was an effort.

We arrived uptown and I was really surprised to see the size of the town. No larger than Cypress, if not smaller. About ten two-storied buildings lined both sides of the street, covering not more than five hundred yards. The second floors of the buildings seemed to be hotels or apartments while the street floors were filled with shops.

The population is comprised of Malayans, Chinese and Indians. Sacred cows, dogs, cats and chickens mingle with the pedestrians on the streets. It was indeed strange to have to step aside and let a cow plod past you on the sidewalks. It was indeed stranger to have one of them stick its head in a doorway and watch you drink beer.

I took some pictures of Swettenham, then Lenny and I found one of the very few taxies in town and we went to Klang which is twelve miles inland from Swettenham. Driving along, on the bumpy dirt road we passed huge groves of rubber and cocoanut trees.

Arriving in Klang, we looked around and I took some pictures, but it didn't offer anything of interest to us, so we returned to swettenham. Klang isn't much larger than Port Swettenham.

The afternoon was about over so we started walking back to the ship. The heat was terrific. I guess one wouldn't notice the heat as much if it wasn't for the relatively low humidity that is so familiar in the tropics. It feels like it is pressing you into the ground and the slightest activity makes one perspire freely and feel exhausted.

Arriving back at the ship, everything was ready for us to leave. The hatches were battened down, the booms were craddled and all we had to wait for was high tide so we could get out the river. At 1600 hours, the whistle blew and the lines were pulled aboard and we were on our way to Penang.

SKILLED ORANGE PICKERS SCARCE

An upswing in seasonal farm employment during the past week, coupled with a greater supply of farm labor than was available a year ago, was reported today by the California Department of Employment.

Skilled male orange pickers are still scarce in Southern California. Such workers in search of employment should contact the Los Angeles farm labor office for Valencia orange picking jobs in southern citrus districts.

"Queen For A Day" Will Go Thru Buena Park

Officials of the Orange County Fair and of Orange County and the mayors of several surrounding cities will meet at the County line at Buena Park on Thursday, August 18, to welcome the lady who is selected as "Queen for a Day" on Jack Bailey's Hollywood Coast-to-Coast radio program of the same name.

Local businessmen and civic officials of the county are cooperating to give the "Queen for a Day" a royal welcome with resultant wide publicity for the Orange County Fair through the award of the special prize, a three day visit to the 1949 County Fair with a royal round of entertainment thrown in.

Following selection of the Queen after the broadcast on August 18, her majesty will be driven to Orange county in a new convertible, chauffeur-driven Pontiac. The car and driver will be at her disposal 24-hours a day for each of the three days the queen is a guest of the 1949 Orange County Fair.

William Burrud of Santa Ana will present the queen with an orchid corsage and bouquet of American beauty roses at the county line. The queen will then be taken on a tour of Orange county cities escorted by a motorcycle police traffic corps.

At 2:00 p.m., the Queen will arrive at the fairgrounds to assist in officially opening the Fair. That evening she will officially open the horse show.

Among the famed Orange county restaurants serving as hosts to the Queen during her tour of the county will be Knott's Berry Farm at Buena Park. She will be personally conducted by Walter Knott on the tour through his famed Ghost Town.

Festival at Fair Big Square Dance

Square dance clubs and groups throughout Southern California, as well as the general public, are cordially invited to attend the big square dance festival being held in connection with the 1949 Orange County Fair scheduled for the new fairgrounds located on former Santa Ana Army Air Base near Costa Mesa, Aug. 18-21, inclusive.

This special event will be free to dancers and spectators alike, the only charge being the regular general admission to the fairgrounds. A large area on the fairgrounds has been set aside for the square dancing with plenty of space for dancers and spectators. Several well-known callers will be on hand and a square dance orchestra has been engaged to furnish music.

The square dance festival has been set for Friday and Saturday evening, Aug. 19 and 20, starting at 8 p.m., and Sunday afternoon, the last day of the Fair, from 2 to 6 p.m. The Friday evening dancing has been especially designated for the young people.

COUNTY GETS $77,093 IN FEDERAL - AID HIGHWAY MONEY

Orange county is allocated $77,093 from the federal-aid highway apportionment of $4,020,746 to the counties of California for 1949-50 fiscal year, it was announced this week from Sacramento headquarters of the County Supervisors association.

The allocation is available only if matched by county funds, the county being required to contribute $65,672, for a total fund of $142,765. The federal allocation would represent 54 per cent of the fund.

Also required of the county is a list of highway projects on which the fund would be expended. The county road commissioner must file such a poject list with the public roads administration of the state highway commission for its approval. County officials said today that such a list is being prepared, but gave no indication of the highways to be included.

The state must notify the county of projects selected from the list for construction, and the county supervisors then have 90 days in which to pass a resolution agreeing to provide funds for matching the federal money.

Another federal apportionment, with similar matching requirements for the fiscal year 1950-51, is due about September 1, it was stated.

All projects for the two fiscal years must be advertised prior to June 30, 1951, regulations provide.

Nearly 12,000 California veterans of World War II have received financial assistance through the State Department of Veterans Affairs toward completing their education.

COUNTY WORKERS COLLECT $28,951.49 DISABILITY PAY

Workers in the Orange County area collected $28,951.49 in State Disability Insurance payments during the month of July, according to the most recent report from V. L. Hetzel, District Manager of the program.

Disability Insurance is intended to partially offset the worker's wage loss during periods of illness or injury. This program is wholly financed by the 1% Unemployment Insurance tax deducted from employees pay.

It is observed that disabled workers continue to lose benefits because they are not aware of the existence of the Disability Insurance program. Therefore workers who, because of illness or injury, are off work eight days or more, should inquire at the nearest office of the Department of Employment or write to Post Office Box 469, Long Beach, regarding eligibility requirements and filing procedures.

Total Valuation of County Increased $22 Million by New Oil Production

Oil production of Orange county, while increasing 3,000,000 barrels in volume, has increased the county's assessed valuation by nearly $22,000,000 this year, it was shown in figures just released by the county assessor's oil appraiser, Daniel Waite. This year's net assessment of mineral rights, as of March 1, is $99,576,170, as compared to $78,020,000 last year, a gain of $21,556,170.

With another $25,000,000, approximately, of assessed value on land, derricks and other physical property, the oil industry's importance to the county's economy is emphasized by the fact that it represents about a third of all assessed value in the county.

At the market price of oil per barrel, the past year's production represents an income of $89,952,033 for the 38,961,223 barrels of oil, plus the $5,779,683 for gas and gasoline, for a total of $95,731,716, Waite's figures revealed. The county's citrus industry averages about $50,000,000 a year.

Total oil production, as stated, compares to 35,747,247 barrels last year, and, with the gas and gasoline, had a gross valuation of $108,806,790. But $9,330,620 of this valuation was exempt, covering 3,261,654 barrels of tideland oil going to the state, with $403,397 in gas and gasoline.

Increased price of oil, rather then increased volume, brought the bulk of the raise in assessed valuation, Waite explained.

Huntington Beach field, as usual, was the big producer, its 28,978,078 barrels representing more than half of total county production in the seven oil fields. Of the Huntington Beach total, 14,186,007 barrels were within the city of Huntington Beach, 6,311,021 barrels were from Huntington Beach school district outside of the city, and 481,050 barrels were from Ocean View school district. Another 1,625,599 barrels in West Newport field were from Huntington Beach school district.

The new West Newport field produced 2,435,440 barrels altogether. Including gas and gasoline, its valuation was $5,939,290 in an area where, just a short time ago, there was no assessed valuation worth mentioning. Huntington Beach field's net valuation was $49,323,050, the bulk of exemptions being here. Seal Beach field's production was 966,200 barrels, with a net valuation, after exemptions, of $3,069,650.

The four interior fields produced 14,581,506 barrels with a valuation of $41,444,180, including gas and gasoline. There were no exemptions outside of the Huntington Beach and Seal Beach fields.

Brea-Olinda field produced 5,320,002 barrels, valuation being $15,043,940. West Coyote field (Fullerton, La Habra, Buena Park) produced a lesser number of barrels, 4,872,657, but its assessed value per barrel was $3.17 compared for $2.83 per barrel in Brea-Olinda field, so the total valuation in West Coyote field was $15,444,180, including gas and gasoline.

East Coyote field, with 2,102,619 barrels, had a valuation of $5,301,900. Richfield field produced 2,286,228 barrels and had a valuation of $5,624,790, including gas and gasoline.

STRANDED FISH BEING TRANSFERRED TO "LIVE WATERS"

Part of Mendocino County's share of fines paid by violators of the Fish and Game Code is being used to provide better fishing in the many streams of the area.

The Board of Supervisors, at the suggestion of local sportsmen, have again hired Harlan Nichols to rescue stranded fish in drying streams for transplanting in 'live" waters. During Summer and Fall months, he will patrol streams of the Eel, Russian, and Navarro watersheds.

Salmon and steelhead trout rescue equipment is provided by the Division of Fish and Game. When large numbers of fish are to be transferred, the regular rescue crew of the Bureau of Fish Conservation is brought into action.

Single-handed, Nichols last year rescued 118,000 fish, while Division personnel in the area accounted for an additional 317,000 fish.

Ed Sack, who heads the two-man State rescue crew stationed in Potter Valley, believes rescued fish have a much better chance for survival than hatchery fish of the same size, being hardy and wild. He predicted a greater number of stranded fish would be found and rescued this year because of low water conditions in the north coastal area.

Swim Classes Proving Popular

Not only are the swimming classes being carried on in Anaheim under the auspices of the chapter there of the American Red Cross proving to be well attended, but they are highly beneficial as well.

Many boys and girls from Cypress and nearby territory are taking advantage of the opportunity to learn to swim, and, in the case of more advanced students to improve their swimming technique.

To date 90 beginner's certificates have ben issued, 43 intermediate and 22 swimmer's.

For the first time in the history of local office's records, two "functional swimming certificates" have been awarded this year. An outgrowth of swimming tests developed during the war, candidates must be 16 years of age or over, and must undergo rigid tests in the water by swimming fully clothed, carrying objects, and other such feats requiring skill.

1¾ MILLION VETS NOW LIVE IN STATE

California's population now includes 1,750,000 veterans of all wars, according to a revised estimate issued today by the State Department of Veterans Affairs.

Director of Veterans Affairs Lawrence C. Stevens said evidence of a continuing influx of ex-servicemen into California has caused Department to raise its estimate of the State's World War II veteran total to 1,350,000, while retaining 400,000 as the figure for veterans of other wars.

The new estimate is based on reports from veterans' organizations, from county service officers and veterans' service center directors and from various State and Federal agencies dealing with both the veteran and the general population picture, Stevens said.

FRIENDS ENTERTAIN FOR AUDREY BORLEY IN DUNN HOME

A shower was given for bride-elect, Audrey Borley, Tuesday evening at 3911 Farquhar street by Mrs. Cleo Carpenter and Mrs. Leo Dunn. The Dunn home was gaily decorated with summer flowers. Several appropriate games had been selected for the evening's entertainment, and attractive prizes were presented Mrs. Phelps Cloud of Garden Grove, Mrs. Hazel Campbell, Mrs. Josephine Davidsen, and Mrs. Anna Smith.

Other guests for the event were Mmes. Olo Mae McGinnis, Florence Layton, Georgia Berley, Victoria McGinnis, Mabel Wright, Evelyn Lee, Sam Mitchell, Shirley Huebert, Doris McGary, Betty Campbell, Bertha Miller and Miss Eugenia Borley. Many lovely and appropriate gifts were showered on the lovely bride-to-be.

The George Wheeler family, with young Judy and George Alan, spent Sunday inspecting the intricacies of the Mount Wilson Observatory. They traveled in their brand new Nash automobile, and picnicked on the observatory grounds.

Members of the Good Neighbors club have postponed their monthly meeting until next week, so that all members may enjoy an afternoon picnic in Anaheim Park on Wednesday.

Robert Hall, attached to the Army Air force, has left for Great Falls, Montana, where he will leave for Germany. His family will remain a few months longer.

The Leo Layton family leave for a vacation by automobile this week to Oregon. They will also drive to Seattle, Washington to visit relatives. In the same neighborhood, Mrs. Fred Johnson and children are spending a week in Pacific Palisades at the Reorganized Latter Day Saints Reunions. Young Smoky Ard is with them.

Friends of Mrs. Ray Cue will be sorry to hear that her mother passed away sudenly in the last week, at Gordon, Nebraska.

Besides the regular meeting, a special event of the evening was a baby shower for twins for Mrs. Hammes, given by the Altar Society Tuesday. She surprised everyone, by having her little boy and girl ahead of time, that the shower was a little late. However congratulations were certainly in order.

Registered at lovely Jasper Park lodge this week in the Canadian Rockies, Jasper National Park, Alberta, Canada, is W. DeKoch, of Los Alamitos.

More Delays In Selection Of Site For New College

More delay in the selection of the site for the proposed new State College was in evidence as the Public Works Board, meeting in Los Angeles this week, adjourned until next month without reaching a decision, according to Assembly Speaker Sam Collins of Fullerton, member of the board.

Should the college be set up on a temporary basis at Long Beach, supporters of that area would argue to make it permanent there on the grounds that it would be too costly to move it once it had been established, it was believed.

DRIVER PLEADS GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER

Fred Sanders, 57, truck driver of 115 East 57th street, Long Beach, Friday pleaded guilty to misdemeanor manslaughter charges growing out of an auto accident July 11 in which three Mexican boys were killed. The crash occurred at Brookhurst and Orangethorpe avenues, near Buena Park. Sanders asked Santa Ana Township Justice Howard Cameron for probation. The court set Aug. 12 as date for passing sentence.
